The Kasbah du Toubkal

Trekking Lodge

2 days - 1 night

Imlil is 40 miles from Marrakech, but the serenity is so complete, the city seems a million miles away.

The building of the Kasbah's first remote trekking lodge is the start of a new concept in trekking in the Atlas.

- Three en suite bedrooms with spectacular views.
- Underfloor heating (solar powered)
- Spectacular terrace looking up to the snow capped 4000m high peaks of the Toubkal Massif
- Lounge with picture windows, wood-burning stove and music system .

The first of The Toubkal Lodges has been built in the village of Id Issa in the Azzadene valley and is a half/full days trek (depending on route) from Imlil. The valley of Azzaden is truly spectacular and very traditional.

"HOW MANY MOUNTAIN REFUGES in the Alps offer rose water to sprinkle on your hands and face after a hard day's hike? If that and other traditional Berber touches sound tempting, then look no further... than the Kasbah du Toubkal's recently opened three-bedroom lodge."

Tala Skari, TIME Magazine, April 18, 2007

The High Atlas Mountains, so important to Marrakech, can often be seen from the city and the views are magnificent. However, a whole new experience awaits those who venture into them. Treat yourself to a trip to the Atlas and visit the home of the Berbers, the original inhabitants of North Africa. The tranquility of Berber village life provides the perfect contrast to the hubbub of the city.
